APOLLO

HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE

The Apollo Project is a two-year workforce programme designed to address recruitment and retention challenges faced within the health and social care sector.

We can:

- Provide you with extra support to develop your skills and build your confidence to gain employment.
- Support your career development by upskilling in your current role.
- Help you transition within your current volunteer role into a diverse range of rewarding opportunities within the health and social care sector.
- Help your workforce gain new skills and develop professional practice to deliver 21st-century care.
- Support employers in recruiting and retaining a diverse and talented workforce.

We offer:

Job Coaches - our experienced job coaches are available to offer support and guidance when looking for employment, helping address any gaps in your skills by providing tailored support to find work in the health and social care sector.

Vocational Trainers - we offer specialist courses to help you gain and develop a comprehensive range of skills, knowledge, and experience for career progression.

Support existing Level 2 and Level 3 college students - our specialist employment team can help you find paid work and work experience as you study, putting you firmly on a path to achieving your career aspirations.

Supported internships - if you encounter employment barriers and have additional needs such as autism and dyslexia, we can help you achieve your ambitions to secure paid work.

Volunteers - are you in a volunteer role and would like to progress? We can help you access training and employment support to turn your volunteering passion into a paid, long-term career in health and social care.
